

Jeremy Baguyos is Professor of Double Bass and Music Technology at the University of Nebraska Omaha (USA). His current projects include intelligent control algorithms and performing within interactive computer music environments. He was born in Quezon City, Philippines and grew up in Overland Park, Kansas (USA). He holds degrees from Indiana University and the Peabody Conservatory of Johns Hopkins University.